In the selling process there are several things to consider before and after you accept an offer. Here is an overview of the entire process.

BEFORE THE OFFER IS ACCEPTED

Select a Real Estate Agent

- What is their experience in the industry
- Ask for their track record
- Ask what marketing material they will provide

Determine List Price

- Online estimates of your home's value
- Your home's sales history
- Local listings and open houses

Determine Time Frame

- What is your personal time frame. Two months prior to listing: evaluate your financial situation and budget, tally transaction costs and remaining equity, and collect title, survey, mortgage insurance and other key documents.
- How long has it taken other houses to sell in your neighborhood?

ONCE THE OFFER IS ACCEPTED

How do I open an escrow?

Generally, the Real Estate Agent will open the escrow. As soon as you execute the Real Estate Purchase Agreement, the Agent will place the Buyer's initial deposit, if any, in the escrow account with WFG National Title Insurance Company.

What information will I have to provide

You may be asked to complete, Seller Information Form(s) and Statement of Identity as part of the necessary paperwork. Because many people have the same name, the Statement of Identity is used to identify the specific person in the transaction through such information as date of birth, social security number, full middle name, etc. This information is kept confidential by WFG National Title Insurance Company.

What do I need to do before my appointment to sign escrow documents?

All parties signing the documents must bring proper identification. You may be required to bring current driver license, identification card or current passport with you to the WFG. These items are needed to verify your identity by a Notary Public; this is a routine, but necessary step for your protection.

When do I sign escrow instructions and where do I do this?

Your Escrow Officer or Real Estate Agent will contact you to make the appointment for you to sign your escrow instructions, Grant Deed, and final closing papers. At this time the Escrow Officer will also tell you the approximate amount of sales proceeds you will receive at closing.

How long is an escrow?

The length of an escrow is determined by the terms set forth in the Real Estate Purchase Agreement and can range from a few days to several months. The average time frame however, is about 30-45 days.

What is the next step after 1/we have signed the closing escrow papers?

After both Buyer and Seller have signed all the necessary instructions and documents, the Escrow Officer will return the Buyer's Loan documents to the Lender for final review. This usually occurs anywhere from 24 hours to a couple of days of executions of said loan documents. After review is completed and the Lender is ready to fund the Buyer's loan, they will notify the Escrow Officer, who in turn, will notify all parties.

What is an "escrow closing"?

An escrow closing is the culmination of the transaction. It signifies legal transfer of the title from the Seller to the Buyer. Generally the Grant Deed and Deed of Trust are recorded within one working day of the Escrow Holder's receipt of Loan funds and Buyer closing funds. This completes the transaction and signifies the "close of escrow". Once all conditions of the escrow have been satisfied, the Escrow Officer informs you or your Agent of the date escrow will close and takes care of the disbursement of all funds in the escrow at closing.

Do I continue to pay my monthly mortgage payments?

Yes, your mortgage payment(s) must be kept current throughout the course of the escrow transaction. If the payments are not kept current, the Lender(s) can/will assess and collect additional interest and late charge(s).

When and where do I get my final sale proceeds?

The proceeds of your sale are disbursed upon close of escrow, once the Escrow Holder has received conformation from the County Records Office that the Deed and other required documents have recorded and legal transfer has occurred. The proceeds will be delivered as per your instructions to the Escrow Holder and/or Officer at WFG National Title Insurance Company.

First Impressions Are Lasting

The front door greets the prospect. Make sure it is fresh and clean. Keep the lawn trimmed, edged and free of refuse.

Decorate For Quick Sale

Faded walls and worn woodwork reduce appeal. Why try to tell the prospect how your home could look when you can show them by redecorating? A quicker sale at a higher price will result.

Let the Sun Shine In

Open draperies and curtains and let the prospect see how cheerful your home can be.

Fix That Faucet

Dripping water discolors sinks and suggests faulty plumbing.

Repairs Can Make a Big Difference

Loose knobs, sticking doors and windows, warped cabinet drawers and other minor flaws detract from a home's value. Have them fixed.

From Top to Bottom

Display the full value of your attic and other utility space by removing all unnecessary articles.

Safety First

Keep stairways clear. Avoid cluttered appearances and possible injuries.

Make Closets Look Bigger

Neat, well ordered closets show that space is ample.

Bathrooms Help Sell Homes

Check and repair caulking in bathtubs and showers. Make this room sparkle.

Arrange Bedrooms Neatly

Remove excess furniture. Use attractive bedspreads and freshly laundered curtains.

Can You See the Light?

Illumination is like a welcome sign. The potential Buyer will feel a glowing warmth when you turn on all your lights for an evening inspection.

Three's a Crowd

Avoid having too many people present during inspection. The potential Buyer will feel like an intruder and will hurry through the house.

Pets Underfoot?

Keep them out of the way-preferable out of the house.

Silence is Golden

Be courteous but don't force conversation with the potential Buyer. They want to inspect your house-not pay a social call.

Be It Ever So Humble

Never apologize for the appearance of your home. After all, it has been lived in. Let the trained salesperson answer any objections. This is his/her job.

In the Background

The salesperson knows the Buyer's requirements and can better emphasize the features of your home when you don't tag along. You will be called if needed.

Why Put the Cart Before the Horse?

Trying to dispose of furniture and furnishings to the potential Buyer before they have purchased the house often loses a sale.

A Word to the Wise

Let your Realtor discuss price, terms, possession, and other factors with the Buyer. He/She is eminently qualified to bring negotiations to a favorable conclusion.

Use Your Agent

Show your home to prospective customers only by appointments through your Agent. Your cooperation will be appreciated and will close the sale more quickly.

A new home designed to meet the individual needs of a family is a wonderful experience, but before the buyers actually get their dream home, they will run headlong into dozens of home ownership details.

The purchase of a new home may prove to be the largest single financial investment many people may make in their lifetime; therefore the importance of fully protecting such an investment cannot be over stressed.

What is Title Insurance?

It is the application of the principles of insurance risks which are present in all real estate transactions. These risks are divided into two main categories: hidden hazards which cannot be detected in the examination of title and human errors which will always be with us.

Examples of hidden hazards are:

Forgery, incompetence of grantor or mortgagor, unknown heirs, fraud, impersonation, etc.

Title insurance differs from other types of insurance protection against future losses arising out of events that have happened in the past. You are insuring history. There are no annual premiums. One premium, based on the amount of the sale or mortgage, is paid when the policy is issued and is good for the life of the policy.

A mortgage policy, insuring the lender, stays in effect until the loan is paid off. An owner's policy insuring the buyer, is good as long as the owners heirs own the property.

Title Insurance Protection gives a homeowner peace of mind by protecting the security of the home and the safety of the investment.

Initially the title company will search and examine the public land records to investigate information surrounding title to the property. The facts revealed by the search will determine:

- That the seller is, in fact, the legal owner of the property.
- That the "estate" or degree of ownership being sold is currently and accurately vested in the seller.
- The presence of any unsatisfied mortgages; judgments or similar liens which must be satisfied before "clear title" can be conveyed.
- Existing restrictions, easements, rights of way or other rights granted to others who are not owners which may limit the right of ownership.
- The status of property taxes and other public or private assessments.

These matters will be reflected in a preliminary report "prelim". The prelim is issued to the mortgage lender or purchaser before the closing.

As you can see, the title company is constantly involved in the sale transaction almost from the time the purchase agreement is signed, through beyond the closing. Working mostly behind the scenes, but always in closer coordination with realtors®, lenders, and legal counsel, the title company strives to carry out this complex procedure in an efficient and friendly manner.

When your loan is submitted for underwriting, it goes directly into the hands of an underwriter whose job is to determine your “creditworthiness” or your ability to repay the loan. The underwriter must take all of the following into consideration when making the decision to approve or disapprove your loan.

Your Employment History

A stable history of employment in the same line of work is considered ideal. Job hopping is not looked upon favorably because it may lead to unstable income. However, if you have switched jobs within the same line of work for advancement in that field, there should be no problem.

Your Income

The underwriter looks carefully at your capacity to repay the loan. Your job stability and gross income (in relation to your expenses) are critical in this regard. Most income must be verified as having been received for at least two years to be used for qualifying purposes.

Your Credit History

Your credit history is an indication of your character or your willingness to repay a loan. The underwriter looks closely at your past payment record (your credit report) in determining this. Any consistent patterns of late payments, collections, etc. are not looked at favorably. Bankruptcies generally must be discharged for at least two years with reestablished credit and the reason for the bankruptcy must be fully explained. Good explanations for all derogatory credit will need to be provided. All outstanding collections, liens and judgments will have to be paid off through escrow (consult your loan officer about any credit questions you may have).

Your Assets

Money you have available for a down-payment, closing costs, cash reserves (money left over after close of escrow to cover 2-3 months mortgage payments) and other liquid assets is your net worth. The underwriter wants to see your ability to save money for the down-payment and where closing costs are coming from. It must be verified that you have had the money (or assets) for a two to three month period.

Your Debts

The underwriter will be concerned with the amount of debt you have because it affects your qualification and your ability to repay the loan. Excessive use of credit may not be looked upon favorably.

The Property

Because the property is the lender’s collateral for the loan, the value, marketability and condition of the property are extremely important. The underwriter looks at the appraisal for this information.

When your offer has been accepted and conveyed, escrow is opened. An escrow is an arrangement made under contract between a Buyer and Seller. As the neutral third party, escrow is responsible for receiving and disbursing money and/or documents. Both the buyer and seller expect the escrow agent to carry out their written instructions associated with the transaction and also to advise them if any of their instructions are not being met, or cannot be met. If the instructions from all parties to an escrow are clearly set out, the escrow officer can proceed on behalf of the buyer and seller without further consultation.

TYPICAL ROLES IN THE CLOSING PROCESS

The Seller/Agent

- Delivers Purchase Sale Agreement to the escrow agent
- Prepares the paperwork necessary to close the transaction

The Buyer/Agent

- Deposits funds required to close in with the escrow agent
- Approves the commitment for title insurance, or other items as called for by the Purchase Sale Agreement
- Executes the paperwork and loan documents necessary to close the transaction

The Lender

- Deposits loan documents to be provided by the buyer
- Deposits the loan funds
- Informs the escrow agent of the conditions under which the loan funds may be used

The Escrow Agent

- Clears Title
- Obtains title insurance
- Obtains payoffs and release documents for underlying loans on the property
- Receives funds from the buyer and/or lender.
- Prepares vesting document affidavit on seller's behalf.
- Prorates insurance, taxes, rents, etc.
- Prepares a final statement (often referred to as the "HUD Statement" or "Settlement Statement") for each party, indicating amounts paid in conjunction with the closing of your transaction.
- Forwards deed to the county for recording.
- Once the proper documents have been recorded, the escrow agent will distribute funds to the proper parties.

Escrow is the process that gathers and processes many of the components of a real estate transaction. The sale is officially closed when the new deed is recorded and funds are available to the seller, in turn transferring ownership from the seller to the buyer. The escrow agent is a neutral third party acting on behalf of the buyer and seller under the Escrow Law as set forth by the State of Nevada Real Estate Agency.

You may have already heard phrases such as “the house fell out of escrow” or “we’re waiting for the escrow to close.” So, just what is escrow anyway? And What does it mean to a home buyer or seller?

Simply stated, escrow is the involvement of an impartial third party in a real estate transaction. This neutral third party acts as an intermediary between the buyer and seller, and also collects and remits funds as instructed. Buyer’s funds are deposited with the escrow company which then remits to the seller on the buyer’s behalf. The basic concept of escrow is to ensure that both the buyer and seller are protected during any real property transaction. Not only is “escrow” the concept of a third party receiving and disbursing funds, but it also includes other valuable transaction services. In order to facilitate the transfer of property from one owner to another, the best escrow companies will:

- Prepare, review, and/or revise escrow instructions.
- Determine the legal ownership and status of the property through a “title search”.
- Request a beneficiary’s statement if a debt is to be assumed by the buyer.
- Confirm that the buyer is “qualified” and meets the lender’s requirements.
- Confirm that the property meets requirements imposed by lender and/or buyer.
- Prorate all related financial matters (e.g., taxes, insurance) involved in the ownership transfer.
- Ensure all legal documentation is complete, including recording the deed.
- Comply with time limits imposed in instructions.

Escrows in Nevada are predominantly handled by escrow agencies that are divisions of a title insurance agency, but sometimes also be handled by banks, saving & loans and independent escrow firms. Escrow agencies that are part of the title insurance company are licensed through the Division of Insurance while banking institutions and independent escrow companies are licensed by the State of Nevada, Mortgage Lending Division. Regardless who issues the license records are open to inspection by the licenser. In addition, each licensing division conducts annual audits and the escrow companies are required to furnish the State with audit results of their books, and all escrow funds must be kept in trust accounts. Thus, the State helps ensure that escrow companies are properly managed and truly act as impartial parties to any real property transaction.

Escrow companies are generally held liable if any instructions are violated during the course of an escrow. No changes may be made to any escrow instructions if changing them would be detrimental to any party involved. It is possible to change instructions once a property has “entered escrow,” however, if all instructions cannot be carried out by the end of the time limit, all parties involved are entitled to the return of document, fees, funds, and other related materials. They also may mutually agree to extend the time period by changing the instructions.

The term “escrow” has come to mean “neutral protection” for the seller, the lender and the buyer. All parties involved in the transfer of real property are impartially protected during the transaction, and are serviced by the professionals intent on ensuring a smooth, trouble-free sale. Look for an escrow company that clearly defines its services, and which lists all fees and charges “up front”.

Escrow is an indispensable necessity in today’s marketplace. If you need further explanations during the process, always consult your escrow officer. The escrow company is, indeed, a neutral third party, and its job is to make sure all sale conditions are met quickly and efficiently.

CHOOSING YOUR ESCROW COMPANY

Ideally, you would ask your real estate agent to recommend two or three different escrow companies. Then you would choose. If you don’t have an agent, you’ll find escrow companies listed in the yellow pages of your phone book under either Real Estate Escrow or Real Estate Title Insurance. In most cases, escrow companies are divisions of title insurance companies. This aids in selecting both the escrow and the title insurance company at the same time.

The preliminary report contains vital information which may affect the willingness and ability of the parties to close escrow. The information in the preliminary report includes:

- ☐ The ownership of the subject property
- ☐ The manner in which the current owners hold title
- ☐ Matter of record which specifically affect the subject property or its owners
- ☐ A legal description of the property
- ☐ An informational plat map
- ☐ The type of title insurance offered by the title company
- ☐ Exclusion and exceptions in the Title Insurance coverage
- ☐ Recorded deeds of trust
- ☐ Easements
- ☐ Agreements
- ☐ Covenants
- ☐ Conditions and restrictions (C.C. & R.'s)
- ☐ Taxes

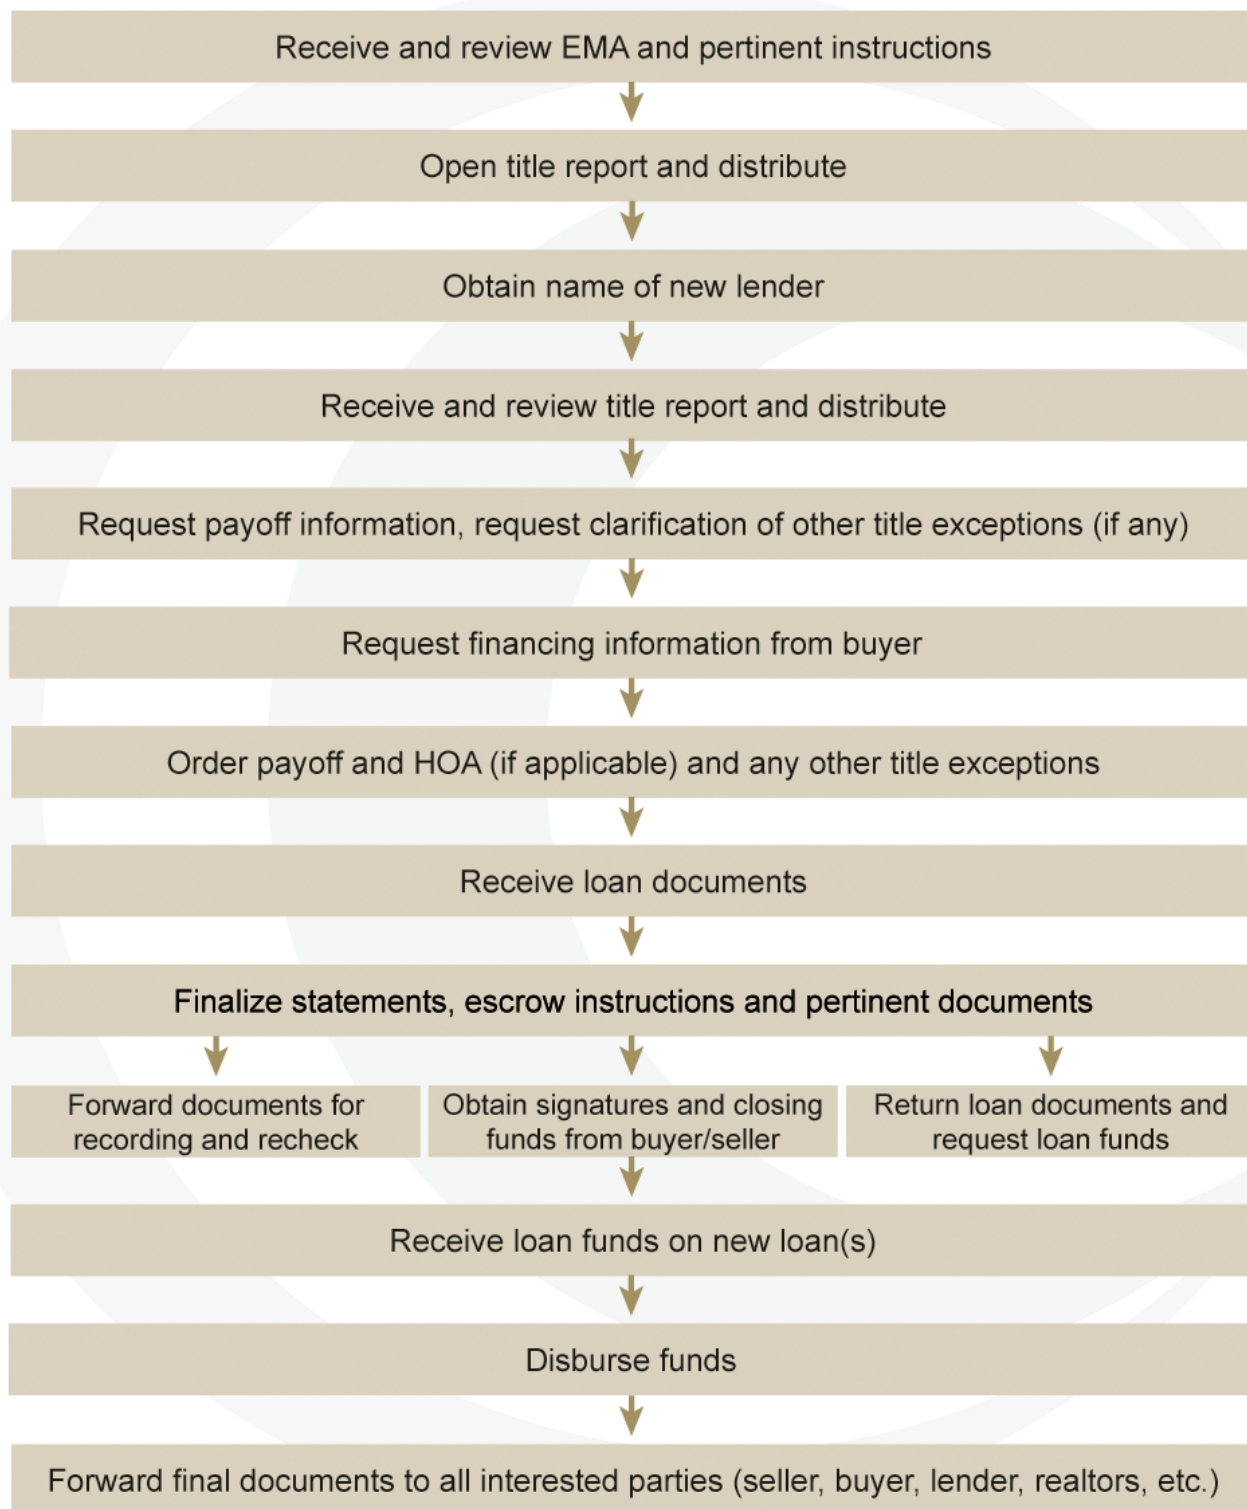

Your Real Estate Agent should review the preliminary report as soon as it arrives, with particular attention to certain areas:

Verify the Ownership Vesting

The name on the report should match the names on the purchase contract. Sometimes the name of an unexpected owner will appear and corrective documents may be required.

Verify the Property Address

The plat map and legal description should match the address. An owner could own two properties adjacent to or across the street from each other, causing confusion in identifying the correct property.

Title insurance insures against financial loss from defects in title, liens or other matters. It protects both purchasers and lenders against loss by the issuance of a title insurance policy. Usually, during a purchase transaction the lender requests a policy (commonly referred to as the Lender's Policy) while the buyers receive their own policy (commonly referred to as an Owner's Policy).

It will protect against lawsuits if the status of the title to a parcel or real property is other than as represented, and if the insured (either the owner or lender) suffers a loss as a result of a title defect. The insurer will reimburse the insured for that loss and any related legal expenses.

Generally there are two policies issued: the Lender's Policy which insures the lender for the amount of the loan and the Owner's Policy which insures the purchaser for the purchase price.

How is title insurance different than other types of insurance?

While the purpose of most other types of insurance is to assume risk through the pooling of monies for losses happening because of unforeseen future events (like sickness or accidents), the primary purpose of title insurance is to eliminate risks and prevent losses caused by defects in title arising out of events that have happened in the past. To achieve this, title insurers perform a thorough search and examination of the public records to determine whether there are any adverse claims (title defects) attached to the subject property. These defects/claims are either eliminated prior to the issuance of a title policy or their existence is excepted from coverage. The policy is issued after the closing of your new home, for a one time nominal fee, and is good for as long as you own the property.

What's involved in a title search?

A title search is made up of three separate searches:

- Chain of Title – History of the ownership of the subject property
- Tax Search – The tax search shows the status of the taxes and assessments
- Judgment and Name Search – Searches for judgment and liens against the owners' and purchasers' name

After the three searches have been completed, the file is reviewed by an examiner who determines:

- If the Chain of Title shows that the party selling the property has the rights to do so.
- If the taxes for the subject property show the existence of any special assessments against the land and whether or not these assessments are current or past due.
- Whether there are any unsatisfied judgments on the Judgment and Name Search against the previous owners, sellers, or/and purchasers.

Rights established by judgment decrees, unpaid federal income taxes and mechanic liens all may be prior claims on the property, ahead of the buyer's or lender's rights. The title search will only uncover

The purchase of a home is likely going to be one of the most expensive and important purchases you will ever make. You and your mortgage lender want to make sure the property is indeed yours and that no individual or government entity has any right, lien, claim or encumbrance to your property.

Title insurance companies function is to make sure your rights and interests to the property are clear, that transfer of title take place efficiently and correctly and that your interests as a homebuyer are protected. Title insurance companies provide services to buyers, sellers, real estate developers, and builders, mortgage lenders and others who have an interest in real estate transfer. Title companies issue two types of policies—“Owners Policy” which covers the homebuyer; and “Lenders Policy” which covers the bank, savings and loan or other lending institution over the life of a loan. Both are issued at the time of purchase for a one-time premium.

WFG conducts an extensive search of public records to determine if anyone other than you has an interest in the property before issuing a policy. The search may be performed by title company personnel using either public records or more likely, information gathered, reorganized and indexed in the company's title “plant”. With such a thorough examination of records, title problems can usually be found and cleared up prior to purchase of the property. Once a title policy is issued, if for some reason any claim, which is covered under your title policy, is ever filed against your property, the title company will pay the legal fee involved in defense of your rights as well as any covered loss arising from a valid claim. That protection, which is in effect as long as you or your heirs own the property, is yours for a one-time premium paid at the time of purchase.

WFG National Title Insurance Company works to eliminate risks before they develop. This makes the title insurance different from other types of insurance. Most forms of insurance assume risks by providing financial protection through a pooling of risks or losses arising from unforeseen events, like fire, theft or accident. The purpose of title insurance, on the other hand, is to eliminate risks and prevent losses caused by defects in title that happened in the past. Risks are examined and mitigated before property changes hands.

Eliminating risk has benefits to both of you, the home buyer, as well as the title company. It reduces the chance adverse claims might be raised, and by doing so reduces the number of claims that have to be defended or satisfied. This keeps costs down for the title company and your title premiums low. With title insurance you are assured that any valid claim against your property will be taken on by the company, and that the odds of a claim being filed is slim.

Not all risks can be eliminated by a title search, since certain “hidden defects” like forgeries, identity of person, incompetence and failure to comply with the law, cannot be disclosed by an examination of the public records. Where the preliminary report is an offer to insure under certain circumstances, the title policy is a contract, providing coverage against such “hidden defects”.

- ☐ A forged signature on a deed
- ☐ Impersonation of the real owner
- ☐ Mistakes in interpretation of wills or other legal documents
- ☐ Deeds delivered without the consent of the grantor
- ☐ Undisclosed or missing heirs
- ☐ Deeds and mortgages signed by persons of unsound mind, by minors or by persons supposedly single but are actually married
- ☐ Recording mistakes and missed recorded documents
- ☐ Falsification of records
- ☐ Errors in copying or indexing

In addition to indemnifying the insured against losses which result from a covered claim, the policy also provides for legal fees and defense against future claims against the property.

Extended Owner's and Lender's policies provide broader coverage and are available through the American Land Title Association (ALTA). Coverage is extended to certain matters that are off-record but which are generally discoverable by an inspection of the property or by questioning the parties in possession, such as:

- ☐ Unrecorded Liens and encumbrances
- ☐ Unrecorded easements
- ☐ Unrecorded rights of parties in possession
- ☐ Encroachments, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines

ALAT Policies are available for lenders or owners, and a “Plain Language” ALTA Residential policy is also available for residential property of one to four units.

Recent legal decisions and new legislation provide that the Seller is responsible for revealing to you the true condition of the property. The concept of selling a property “as is”, with the Buyer assuming all responsibility for determining the property condition, is not acceptable in the present marketplace. The Seller must disclose the known condition of the property to the Buyer. This information should be made available to the buyer as soon as possible.

Charm or Irritant

Having lived in this property, the Seller has become accustomed to the peculiar conditions that may have developed. But for the Buyer peculiarly may be more than a mere inconvenience. It may be an irritant which the Buyer cannot tolerate. It is important for the Seller to review the condition of the property with the real estate agent and take special note of any problems on the Disclosure Form NRS 113.130 and NRS 113.140 requires that the Seller provide the Buyer with a completed “Seller’s Real Property Disclosures Form”.

All Systems Are Working Properly

A basic assumption in every sales is that the house and systems in the house are functional. For example, the roof will hold out the rain and sun, the hot water heater will provide hot water, and the heater will provide heat. if it is known that any of the systems do not function properly, such facts should be included in the purchase agreement and acknowledged by the Buyer.

“As Is”

An “as is” purchase is perfectly acceptable, as long as the buyer understands exactly what the “as is” condition entails. Thus, it can be said in the purchase agreement that the buyer accept the roof and the plumbing and the electrical system in their present condition and acknowledges that they may have defects. This acknowledgement provides a defense for the seller if it is a later claimed not all problems were disclosed.

Environmental Hazards

It is required that the Seller disclose any knowledge of environmental hazards in the home or area such as asbestos or pollutants. You will be provided with a Seller’s Real Property Disclosure Form filled out by the seller as to their awareness or knowledge on this subject.

Payoff

The receipt of funds from the buyer and the payment of the obligations of the seller in conjunction with a real estate transaction. The payoff function is performed by the title company.

Payoff Fees

Investors Title fees for handling a payoff vary slightly from county to county. The fee is strictly a processing charge and does not cover special handling charges or potential shortages.

Prefigures

Estimated payoff figures are calculated and given prior to closing upon request. These figures are only valid through the date given and are based on the information provided at the time.

Good Funds

WFG must be in receipt of "Good Funds" prior to disbursing on a pay-off.

Types of "Good Funds" include:

1. Funds wired to WFG National Title sub-escrow Account
2. A cashier's, tellers or certified check will provide next day availability after deposit
3. All other local checks will provide availability of funds two (2) days after deposit.
4. Out of area check will provide availability of funds five (5) days after deposit.

Taxes

Outstanding property taxes can be paid out of the payoff process.

Demands

Demands must include specific payoff information concerning the particular property and must be signed. It is the responsibility of the escrow to order and provide all necessary demands including any updates or changes on a timely basis.

Refunds

Any overpayments of demands will be refunded to the escrow upon receipt from the lender. Refunds typically take two to six weeks to process.

Shortages

WFG National Title Insurance Company will require from the escrow the necessary funds to cover the outstanding obligations. Any shortages must be received prior to payoff.

Disbursement Checks

Checks are delivered locally to lending institutions by a contracted messenger service. Checks to individuals and to out of area lenders are typically sent via an overnight delivery company.

Wire Transfers

Funds can be wired in to or out of the WFG National Title Company account.

Having an idea of what is involved in appraising a piece of property can greatly help in maximizing the appraisal value to avoid costly details and re-inspections.

The appraisal process consists of several steps. The following are major steps in the sequence normally taken by appraisers:

1. Research the subject property as to size, bedrooms, baths, year built, lot size, and square footage
2. Gather data of recent sales in the subject's neighborhood. The appraiser needs to locate at least three and preferably similar-sized homes which have sold and closed escrow in the neighborhood. The homes need to be within one mile of the "Comparable properties" or "comps"
3. Field inspection consists of two parts: first the inspection of the subject property, and second, the exterior inspection of the comparable properties which have been selected to estimate the value of the subject property.

The inspection consists of taking photos of the street scene, front of the home and rear of the home which may include portions of the yard. The appraiser will make an interior inspection for condition, noting any items that would detract or add to the value of the home. He will also draw a floor plan of the home while doing the inspection.

The inspection of the comparable properties is limited to an exterior inspection. For features that cannot be seen from the street, the appraiser has reports from Multiple Listings Services (MLS), California Market Data Cooperative (CMDC), county public records, and appraisal files along with other sources to help determine the condition and amenities of the comparables. After the field inspection has been completed, the appraiser must go through the reconciliation process with the three comparable properties to determine a final estimated value. This method of estimating value is called the "Direct Sales Comparison Approach to Value", and it accounts for nearly all of the considerations in determining value of single family homes.

It is important to consider that the appraiser will be taking photos of the street scene and the front of the property. The street scene gives the lender an idea as to the type of neighborhood the property is located in. The photo of the front of the property gives the lender an idea of its condition and its curb appeal. And lastly, a photo of the back of the property and part of the rear yard is taken. Many homeowners don't take care of the rear portion of their property, so for this reason the rear photo is required.

In most cases, (over 90% of the time) what you see in the condition of the exterior of a home will be repeated almost exactly in the interior.

An appraiser will call in advance to set up the appointment to inspect the home. At that time, any information about the property, (number of bedrooms, bathrooms, pool, enclosed patio, etc.) should be given. The more that is known about the property prior to Inspection, the better the appraiser can focus on researching the most similar comparables.

During the contingency period, your Realtor will order physical inspections as specified in your purchase agreement. Legislation mandates, (NRS 113.130 and NRS113.140), that the seller has the responsibility to reveal the true condition of the property on a disclosure statement. This may help you determine what kind of property inspections you feel are desired or necessary. Your Realtor will help you arrange for these.

Who Pays?

Your Purchase Agreement will specify who is responsible for the costs of inspections and for making any needed corrections or repairs. The cost is negotiable between the parties and should be considered carefully. Your Realtor will advise you what is customary and prudent.

Structural Pest Control Process

While rarely requested for Southern Nevada property a licensed inspector will examine the property for any active infestation by wood destroying organisms. Most termite reports classify conditions as Section 1 or Section 2. The inspection and the ensuing Section 1 repair work is usually paid for by the seller. Section 2 preventative measures are generally negotiable and not necessarily completed.

Section 1

Section 1 conditions are those currently causing damage to the property. These conditions generally need to be corrected before a lender will make a loan on a home.

Section 2

Section 2 conditions are those currently causing damage but which are likely to, if left unattended.

Geological Inspection

Although not typical in Southern Nevada a soil engineer will perform an inspection of the soil conditions and the stability of the ground beneath the structure, as well as research past geological activity in the area. Typically, the buyer pays for this inspection. You may also elect to go to the city and research the property and it's proximity to known fault lines.

Home Inspection

This inspection encompasses roof, plumbing, electrical, heating, appliances, water heater, furnace, exterior siding, and other visible features of the property. A detailed report will be written with recommendations, often times the recommendation is to consult a professional. The inspection fee is usually paid by the buyer.

Personal Property vs. Real Property

The distinction between personal property and real property can be the source of difficulties in a real estate transaction. A purchase contract is normally written to include all real property; that is, all aspects of the property that are fastened down or which are an integral part of the structure. For example, this would include light fixtures, drapery rods, attached mirrors, trees and shrubs in the ground. It would not include potted plants, free-standing refrigerations, washer/dryer, microwave, bookcases, lamps, etc.

If there is any uncertainty whether an item is included in the sale or not, it is best to be sure that the particular item is mentioned in the purchase agreement as being included or excluded.

An appointment is required for the sign-off. Please call your Escrow Officer to arrange a convenient time. There are several acceptable forms of identification which may be used during the escrow process including: A current driver license; Passport; and State of Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles ID card

One of these forms of identification must be presented at the signing of escrow in order for the signature to be notarized.

Closing Funds

Whether you are purchasing for cash or obtaining financing, your portion of the closing must be deposited into escrow via wire transfer, a cashier's check or certified check issued by a Nevada financial institution that is made payable to the title company in the amount indicated to you by your escrow officer. A personal check may not be accepted, as it might delay the closing since the title company is required by law to have good funds before disbursing funds from escrow. Similarly, an out-of-state check could cause a delay in closing, due to delays in clearing the check.

Paying Off Your Existing Loans

Unless the Buyer takes over your existing loan(s), the loan(s) will be paid off at the close of escrow. You will need to furnish complete information to your escrow officer and real estate agent on each loan against your property. Please be prepared to provide the name of each lender. Your escrow officer will need this information to order the loan payoff demands so the loan(s) may be paid off correctly at the close of escrow.

Homeowner's Association information may also be required if you are selling a condominium, townhouse or property located in a planned unit development. All of this information will help to insure the timely closing of your escrow.

Disclosures and Contingencies...

During the process of selling your property, you will be asked to fill out a property disclosure form which is now required by law. In this document, you will inform the Buyer of any significant facts you have about the conditions of the property. If you are moving out of Nevada, other disclosures may be necessary. Your real estate agent will assist you with these.

There will be various contingency dates in your real estate sales contract. You should be very aware of these and be sure that the actions required are performed in a timely manner. Such contingencies include the Buyer's loan approval, approval of the Preliminary Report, approval of structural pest control and other inspections. Stay closely in touch with your real estate agent regarding these important dates.

After The Buyer's Loan Is Approved

When the Buyer's loan is approved and the loan documents are sent to the escrow officer handling your transaction, the escrow officer contacts the Buyer to schedule a signing appointment and collect the final closing funds. The escrow officer will collect any and all necessary documents needed from you, together with the executed Grant Deed if it has not already been handed to escrow.

After Completion of the Sign-Off

After you and the Buyer have signed all necessary instructions and documents, the escrow officer will return them to the new lender for a final review. Following the review, the lender is ready to fund the Buyer's loan, and advises the escrow officer, so that the necessary work can be completed to record the documents and "close" escrow.

What is "Close" of Escrow?

It signifies the legal transfer of title to the property from the Seller to the Buyer and is the elimination of the transaction. Usually, the Grant Deed and Deed of Trust are recorded within on working day of the escrow holder's receipt of loan funds.

When Do I receive Proceeds From The Sale?

A final settlement statement and your net sales proceeds are available to you on the day of the sale is completed, documents are recorded and the escrow is closed. You may receive your proceeds in the form of a company check or wired funds.

Moving can be very stressful, so what do you do when circumstances or opportunities require that you relocate? How do you get through a move in one piece? You might begin by following these helpful stress relief tips.

Start early

Few feel relaxed under a deadline, but having the benefit of time can help calm the nerves. The time to start planning for your move is as soon as you know you need to move.

Get Organized

The number one method for alleviating emotional stress when moving is to feel like you have control over what's happening. As illusory as that control may be, being organized will help you handle the unexpected.

First, come up with a relocating schedule that will help you break the moving process into phases. Detail exactly which task needs to be accomplished when. Use a checklist to make sure you are taking care of necessary goals by their due dates.

Create a system that works to help you keep track of everything. Whether you make up your own or get help from someone with moving experience, having a model to work from will be your saving grace.

Make it easy

Don't be married to an initial moving plan simply because it was your first. As you do the footwork, you may discover there is an easier way to get the move done, and you should embrace this! Sure, driving your car cross-country might have seemed the only affordable option initially, but a search for reputable auto shippers and a sale on air fares could make all the difference between a stressful move and a more relaxed one.

The same philosophy goes for packing. Rather than take on the entire process yourself, be sure to get quotes for having movers assist you.

Schedule time for stress relief

In the weeks leading up to your move, you may be so focused on getting everything done that you neglect your own health. Coping with a move requires that you stay physically and emotionally fit, so get plenty of sleep, eat well and get some exercise. This would also be a good time to schedule a massage or a spa session. If time allows, try to get a weekend or at least a night away so that you can take your mind off your move for a little while.

Ask for help

Obsessive-compulsive people and the detail-oriented among us often have trouble asking for help. While you are making your thorough preparations, also be sure to contact friends and family on both sides of your move to help you in any way possible. Many hands really do make the work lighter, which can relieve a lot of stress. You'll be glad for the company, too.

Look forward to the end results

Yes, you know moving will be hard and potentially fraught with stresses, but you will survive it. Many others have gone before you and lived to tell about it. Know that there is nothing that can happen that you can't handle and focus on the potential for new growth and adventure in your new home.

Moving is one of the more stressful things we can experience, but there are ways to make it easier. Prepare, get organized and stay flexible. Before you know it, you'll be unpacking your things in your new home and wondering what all that worry was about!

Beds: Disassemble the bed frame. Tie rails and cross-pieces together with packing tape. Be sure to mark on tape to show where pieces fit together for reassembly.

Bicycles, Tricycles, Baby Carriages: Loosen, lower and turn handlebars at right angles to save space. Clean and cover chains and pedals to protect other items from being snagged or soiled.

Books: They're heavy, so use small boxes. Don't mix books with other items. Pack books flat, alternating bindings, and fill empty spaces with packing paper or bubble wrap.

Bureaus, Dressers: Fill drawers with small breakable items and cushion well with loose clothes. Secure drawers with pad or blanket and tape. Do not overload drawers with heavy items.

Chairs: Wrap arms and legs to prevent scratches. Bundle armless chairs in pairs, seat to seat, with a folded blanket or other padding between and tie seats together.

Clothes: Dresses, coats, suits - anything hanging in closets - travel best in reusable boxes, which can be used seasonally as "extra closets" for wardrobe storage. Other clothes can remain folded in their regular dresser drawers.

Curtain Rod Hardware: Put the hardware in a plastic bag and tape to rod or pack in dresser drawers.

Dishes: Individually wrap each piece. Place saucers, plates, and platters on edge. Do not stack flat. Cups and bowls may be placed inside each other and wrapped three or four in a bundle.

Fine Furniture: You may want to wrap your best furniture in bubble wrap, not only to protect it from scratching, but to keep dust and dirt off the upholstery.

Glasses: Wrap each glass separately in packing paper or bubble wrap (remember to wrap first in a plastic bag to save washing later). Pack in sturdy boxes.

Kitchenware: Pots, pans, etc. can be stacked in a box with packing paper between them.

Lamps: After disassembling lamps, pack small bases in dresser drawers surrounded by loose clothing, and large bases in boxes stuffed with packing paper or bubble wrap. Box shades individually in boxes with plenty of packing paper for stuffing. Don't use newspaper because it smudges.

Lawn Mowers: Drain fuel and oil before moving. Remove handle from hand mowers and place blade end in sturdy box. Mark properly.

Mirrors: Small mirrors can be well wrapped in paper and packed in boxes. For a large mirror, make a cardboard case by cutting pieces of corrugated cardboard. Mark glass on the outside to prevent mishandling. Always pack and store on end.

Paint and Flammables: Don't move! The same goes for other flammables such as alcohol, solvents, lighter fluid, ammunition and greasy mops or rags.

Paintings and Prints: Place in mirror boxes, wrap individually in corrugated cardboard, or wrap in cardboard cushioned with thick blankets and tie bundles with cord. Stand on sides.

Radios, TV's: Box upright and make sure items are well padded on all sides. For console-size equipment, surround with furniture pads, and then move and load upright.

Rugs and Pads: After vacuuming rugs and pads, sprinkle with moth flakes. Roll up and tape.

Stereos, Compact Discs, and Cassettes: Separately pack components and pack in well padded box marked fragile. Pack CD's upright in their cases in a sturdy box with tape-reinforced bottom. Tie CDs in small bundles before packing, then fill air space with packing paper. Mark FRAGILE.

Tables: For large tables, remove legs and tie together. Put hardware in small sealed envelope taped to underside of table top. Pad tops. Pad and tie spare table leaves. For smaller tables, pad top and wrap legs to prevent scratching.

Tools and Gardening Equipment: Drain hoses, coil and pack in boxes. Fill remaining spaces with lawn sprinklers, small garden hand tools, etc. Tie rakes, shovels, and other long-handled tools together with tape.

Valuables: Set aside jewelry, important papers and safe deposit box contents to be packed in a small container you can keep with you throughout the move.

Do not wait to inform your children about moving.Tell your kids about the move as soon as possible!

It is pretty natural to assume that the less time kids have to think about moving, the easier it will be for your children. However, experts say it is actually the opposite. Kids need time to get used to the idea of moving. Don't put off telling them about moving.

Welcome your children's questions about moving.

Open lines of communication will go a long way toward helping your children feel comfortable with moving and it's okay even if you can't answer all their questions right now. Your kid's questions can give you an idea of how they're feeling about moving — whether they're excited or uneasy. Some questions may also offer an ideal way to get them involved in the moving process, such as suggesting they get online to locate nearby libraries or parks.

Be positive & upbeat about the move.

Your attitude about the move will influence your children's attitude as well. If you dread moving, then the move will seem dreadful to them too. Be enthusiastic, upbeat, and positive about the new experiences and opportunities in store, and your children will be more likely to feel the same way.

Let your children know they can help with the move.

This is a good time to emphasize that the move is a family event and that everyone will be part of the planning, packing, and perhaps even choosing the new home. Start your kids on thinking of things they can do and how to get ready for the move. Assure your kids that their contributions, however small, will be valued and greatly appreciated.

MOVING DAY CHECKLISTPacking Time! Time to Sort Your Stuff!

Moving is a good reason to get rid of things you don't want anymore, which will also make room for new things you might get in the future! Go through your all toys and games and group them into three piles:

- First Pile: Things you want to take with you to the new home.
- Second Pile: Things to toss out (broken toys and games with missing pieces).
- Third Pile: Things you don't want but could be given away to other kids.

Ask: "What Else"!

Ask your parents what else can you do to help with all the sorting and packing that needs to be done. They will appreciate your help!

Mark Your Stuff as "Yours"!

Design your own personal "seal" for marking your boxes as YOUR property! As your belongings are packed, draw your "seal" on the outside of each box. Be creative! You can create your own work of art to mark your belongings.

Get Ready for Your First Night!

Your first night in your new home is very special. Be sure to have your favorite pajamas, your trust blanket or stuffed toy, or your favorite book packed away in your suitcase or backpack. This will be your very own piece that you'll personally be in charge of to take with you to your new place to get ready for your first night in your new home!

Don't Forget to Bring Some Entertainment!

Don't forget to take some things for you to do on the airplane or in the car on the way to the new home, such as books, video games, action figures, or crayons and paper.

Take Your Time When Packing

Stretch out your moving preparation time over several weeks. Avoid panic in the last days. Take steps to ensure that moving day is as relaxed as possible for you and your pets.

Make Travel Arrangements For Your Pets

If your move involves air travel, contact airline carriers one month in advance. Ask about their pet regulations, and make reservations. Choose a nonstop flight to avoid extra handling and climate and air-pressure changes.

Visit Your Pet's Veterinarian Before Moving

A couple weeks before moving, request a copy of veterinary records, a rabies vaccination certificate, and a health certificate. Be sure your pets are up to date with their shots. If your pet is a senior or has health problems, ask whether a mild sedative would be advisable before travel. Can your vet recommend another in your new location? For out-of-state moves, contact the State Department of Animal Husbandry or the state veterinarian about entry regulations—almost all states have entry laws for most animals except tropical fish.

Don't Change - Maintain Your Pet's Routine

Keep your pets' routines, such as feedings and walks, as normal as possible in the week before moving. Because dogs and cats need to feel in control, they might exhibit behavioral changes or even become ill when stressed. Treat them with the same level of attention you would ordinarily give them.

Make A Special Room For Your Pet

A few days before moving, choose a small room to be the "pet room." Tape a sign to the door that says "Pets: Do Not Open." Make the sign large enough that friends or movers can see it easily. Move food and water bowls, as well as toys, into this room. Provide dogs and cats with sturdy carriers equipped with litter box (for cats), chew toys, or favorite objects that have a familiar smell. Leave carrier doors open so pets can adapt to them before travel day. On moving day, keep animals in their carriers. As an alternative, consider boarding dogs and cats, or ask a friend to care take your dogs during the last few days.

Get Tags And Leashes For Your Pets

If you have a dog or an indoor/outdoor cat, buy or create identification tags with your new address and phone number. Be sure your pets are wearing them during travel. While you're at it, pick up a cat leash—you'll need it if you're taking a long road trip or an airplane.

ACCELERATION CLAUSE: A clause in a Deed of Trust or Note that accelerates or hastens the time when the debt becomes due. For example, most deeds of trust of loans contain a provision that the note shall become due immediately upon the sale or transfer of title of the loan, or upon failure to pay an installment of principal or interest. This is also called a due on sale clause.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT: A formal declaration made before an authorized official (usually a notary public), by the person who has executed (signed) a document, that such execution is his/her own act and deed. In most instances a document must be acknowledged (notarized) before it can be accepted for recording.

ADJUSTABLE RATE MORTGAGE (ARM): A mortgage with an interest rate that changes over time in line with movements in the index. ARMs are also referred to as AMLs (adjustable mortgage loans) or VRMs (variable rate mortgages).

ADJUSTMENT PERIOD: The length of time between interest rate changes on an ARM. For example, a loan with an adjustment period of one year is called a one-year ARM, which means that the interest rate can change once a year.

AFFIDAVIT: A sworn statement in writing, made before an authorized official.
